News, Feature Stories, & Commentary

Band Gets Busy for Independence Day

by Master Sgt. Eric Sullivan

7/6/2015 - Washington, D.C. -- The great American holiday of Independence Day is fast approaching, and along with cookouts, friends and family and fireworks, why not celebrate with some top-notch music from first-rate Airmen musicians? The U.S. Air Force Band stands ready to satisfy your celebratory desires with a full slate of performances--live and televised--on and around the Fourth of July!

Postcards from the Airmen of Note

by Master Sgt. Andy Axelrad

7/6/2015 - Washington, D.C. -- The Airmen of Note recently returned from the bucolic rolling hills of Danville, Kentucky, where we chalked up several notable performances at the Great American Brass Band Festival. The Festival has been a fixture at Center College in the Danville community for over a quarter century. This year's festival focused on jazz, and fittingly the Note was the featured band. Longtime friend to the Airmen of Note and trumpet great Vince DiMartino collaborated during several performances. Other standout featured guests included trumpeters Rex Richardson and Al Hood, as well as Wycliffe Gordon on trombone.

Celtic Jukebox

by Senior Master Sgt. Dennis Hoffmann

7/6/2015 - Washington, D.C. -- Since the group was formed in 2007, The United States Air Force Band's Celtic Aire has been a favorite of concert-goers and Air Force leadership. Their blend of traditional Irish favorites, original compositions, American folk, and pop covers has helped endear the group to hundreds of loyal fans. This summer, Celtic Aire is asking those fans to engage with the group through social media and take part in their innovative "Celtic Jukebox" concerts, where the audience will choose what the band performs!
