News, Feature Stories, & Commentary

The U.S. Air Force Band Releases Newest Recording - "America"

by Senior Master Sgt. William Hurd

6/30/2017 - Washington, D.C. -- The United States Air Force Band is proud to release its latest compact disc - America -- a wide-ranging collection of inspiring, patriotic music that celebrates our nation's heritage and diversity. Drawn from not only recent, nationally televised broadcasts for Independence Day and Veterans Day but also our patriotic archives, these selections of music express our national story and reaffirm the sense of duty and honor shared by all of those who have served our great nation. Concert Band Percussionists Develop New Educational Outreach Strategies

by Master Sgt. Brooke Emery

6/30/2017 - Washington, D.C. --Now entering its fourth year, the United States Air Force Band's Advancing Innovation Through Music (AIM) program has brought premier bandsmen into direct contact with thousands of young musicians from all across the country. As the program has grown, members of the band have experimented with improvements to the program, but none so much as Concert Band percussionists Master Sergeants Marc Dinitz and Adam Green, who created a custom performance/presentation that immerses young musicians in the many facets of military music. Max Impact Kicks Off First Summer Concert Series Since Deployment

by Technical Sgt. Nalani Quintello

6/30/2017 - Washington, D.C. -- Max Impact, the Premier Rock Band of the United States Air Force, will kick off their first summer concert series since last year's ninety-day deployment to Southeast Asia.

Instead of performing around the nation's capital region, Max Impact spent last summer visiting six countries in the Middle East, acting as musical diplomats and positively representing the United States through the soft power asset of music. Read more »
